

21 Days of Prayer

Day 4:

Scripture:

Our God is in heaven; He does what pleases Him. Psalm 115:3 NIV

Devotional:

We read this verse, nod our heads and say, “Yes, I let God do what pleases Him.” But if He does something that doesn’t fit into our life’s paradigm, we sometimes balk or complain. Holy Spirit wants us to follow Him off our grid and beyond what we know. As the Psalm says, “He does what pleases Him.”

In the title song of her EP “Boxes”, worship leader Jena Brancart addresses breaking down walls, fears, and wrong ideas of God:

“All my boxes, they are breaking, and my heart is re-arranging, coming in alignment with who You are.”

What “boxes” do you have God in? Do you allow God to do what pleases Him in your life? Or do you allow only what fits in your “boxes”? Pray for the boldness to allow God permission in our lives and in our church to move as He pleases—off our grid and out of the box!

Prayer:

Holy Spirit, as scary as it may feel to us, we give You permission to fully do Your will in and around us. Empower us to follow You off our grid and out of the comfortable “boxes” we’ve put You in. Rearrange our hearts, bringing us into alignment with who You really are!
